Genkai Unit 3: Synchronization to the grid

We hereby announce that the Genkai Nuclear Power Station Unit 3 restarted power generation at 14:29 today.

The power generator will gradually increase output, while we carefully watch plant status at respective output levels. We continue to work giving a highest priority to the safety regardless of the work schedule, while earnestly responding to the regulatory inspections.

Kyushu Electric Power Company will be devoted to voluntary and continuous safety improvement of the power station as well as active information sharing and respectful communication, in order to ensure the local society and general public of Japan will feel reassured.
