Resumption to Commercial Operation at Shimane Unit 2

Today, we completed the 17th regular operator inspection and pre-operation operator inspection of Shimane Nuclear Power Station Unit 2 and resumed commercial operation.

Once again, we would like to express our sincere gratitude to all the people involved and the local community for their understanding and cooperation.

For Shimane Nuclear Power Station Unit 2, we have responded to the Nuclear Regulation Authority's inspection of compliance with the new regulatory standards, and have pursued safety improvement by carrying out a wide variety of safety measures and training for various situations.

Today, we completed the restart process and moved into commercial operation, but we view this as a new starting point for the operation of the power station. In operating the power station, we will continue to strive to continue stable operation with a sense of urgency, with safety as the top priority, and will steadily advance our efforts to improve safety.

We will continue to strive to appropriately disclose information about the status and efforts of the power station, and will provide detailed explanations on various occasions in order to aim to be a power station that the local community can feel safe in.
